I'm a 23-year-old International Business student with a strong interest in marketing, human resources, finance, and data analysis. I am passionate about understanding business strategies, consumer behavior, and organizational growth while developing analytical and problem-solving skills. Through my leadership and co-curricular involvement, I have gained experience in teamwork, communication, event management, and conducting basic first aid workshops. I am eager to expand my professional experience, contribute to a dynamic organization, and continuously grow both personally and professionally.
